The Conductor

RICHARD W. BOWLES, composer, clinician, and author, became Director of Bands at the University of Florida in 1961. His more than one hundred published compositions and arrangements for band, orchestra, string orchestra, and instrumental ensembles include the concert march "Burst of Flame," which is listed among the "World's 100 Most Popular Marches" by The Instrumentalist Magazine.

Dr. Bowles is currently President of the College Band Directors National Association, and is a member of the American Bandmasters Association. He is a member of ASCAP, and is the recipient of four consecutive ASCAPS Standard Awards for Composition. His other professional organizational memberships include Phi Beta Mu, Kappa Kappa Psi, Florida Bandmasters Association, Florida Music Educators Association, and Music Educators National Conference.

Prior to joining the Gator Band staff in 1958, Bowles was for 12 years a highly successful band director and music supervisor in the schools of Indiana. He is a past president of the Indiana School Music Association.

Bowles received his undergraduate training at Indiana University, where he studied composition with Robert Sanders. His graduate work at the University of Wisconsin, where he received the Master of Science degree in 1950, included study in musical composition with Cecil Burleigh. He is also a graduate of the Army Music School, and was for more than three years, the Bandleader of the 715th AAF Band during World War II.

Recordings of this concert may be purchased for $7.50. Inquiries should be addressed to Ray Keller, Terre Haute North High School, Terre Haute, Indiana.
